Self-verified patient of Dr. David S Younger - Posted on June 11th, 2019

After 6 months of going to see various doctors without a clear diagnosis for our daughter, we were referred to Dr. Younger. Dr. Younger did the appropriate testing and was able to diagnose her very quickly and prescribe a treatment plan. Unfortunately, we had many battles with our insurance company over the approval of the medicine she needed to begin her healing process. Dr. Younger faithfully followed up with them again and again to present his case on the necessity of her medication. Finally after a LONG, HARD fought battle, Dr. Younger was able to get the approval from the insurance company! She has finally started her treatments and we are hopeful for her future recovery! During this process, the office staff was very friendly and accommodating to my questions and inquiries. We are thankful for his expertise and perseverance through this process.

★★★★★ Dr. David S Younger

Self-verified patient of Dr. David S Younger - Posted on May 30th, 2019

Dr. Younger helped to save my son. Previously, we had taken my son to a prominent Boston neurologist, who only performed cursory tests, and could not determine the issues. Dr. Younger conducted extensive testing. He correctly diagnosed the issues (neuropathy / encephalopathy) and prescribed the needed medication. My son, after being treated by Dr. Younger, could finally go out into the sun and rain without pain. Previously, the sun had caused him to collapse. Raindrops felt like tiny daggers into his skin. The day my son could let the rain touch him without pain, he slowly twirled in it, and reveled in it, as if he was feeling it for the first time. It was a moment my husband and I will never forget. Dr. Younger succeeded where others could not. Dr. Younger gave my son his much of his life back, and for this we are forever grateful.

I saw Dr. Younger after my last Rheumatologist gave up on me (along with the last 9+ Rheumatologists). I had seen a number of neurologists who also did not know how to treat me. I have a very complicated case that has stumped numerous doctors. I then came across Dr. Younger and he was the first doctor that I have seen who went above and beyond to run additional tests and who was able to think outside of the box to help diagnose me. I am hopeful that he can help treat my complicated case. I would highly recommend Dr. Younger to anyone who has a case that no other doctors can figure out. Dr. Younger takes the time to explain everything to you and genuinely wants to find the solution to treat you. Thank you Dr. Younger!

★★★★★ Gifted Doctor

Self-verified patient of Dr. David S Younger - Posted on January 18th, 2019

Dr. Younger is an answer to prayer. An amazing and incredibly gifted doctor who came highly recommended. In fact I was told to go to no other neurologist but him. His expertise and extensive knowledge in the field of autoimmune neurological disorders is impressive. We were on a very long journey searching for answers to my daughter's very complex medical case with no answers in sight. Over a year of appointments with many doctors and specialists including three very scary visits to the emergency room and we still had no answers. In fact the doctors at the emergency room said there was nothing at all they could do to help us. They were at a loss for any explanation to the symptoms my daughter was having. They said "the blood work is fine" VERY frustrating ... until we were referred to Dr Younger by our newly found holistic doctor who knew there was something seriously wrong. We wondered if we would ever solve this mysterious medical puzzle until we met Dr. Younger. He was simply AMAZING! He listened..... intently, did a very thorough examination and took copious notes, followed up with a specific plan for my daughter in order to find answers. He is brilliant at what he does..... Diagnosing very complex medical conditions. I HIGHLY recommend Dr. Younger. His staff is wonderful as well....extremely professional, compassionate and responsive.

Dr. Younger is brilliant and caring. He is focused and organized. He knows everything about my chronic illness, and is the only doctor, in 4 years, who was able to get me the treatment I need. I will forever be grateful. I was admiring his framed Hippocratic Oath wall plaque because I wanted to get one for my son who is a doctor. Dr. Younger reached into to his desk and gave me a beautiful wood shellacked copy of the Hippocratic Oath. He had two and I was so touched that he so sweetly offered it to me. Need I say more?

★★★★★ The kind heart of a caring doctor.

Self-verified patient of Dr. David S Younger - Posted on October 5th, 2018

If ever there were two areas of medicine that should overlap, Psychiatry and Neurology would be the two. All too often patients are diagnosed with psychological issues and categorized into a treatment mode, and put on regimes of medications, each causing it's own side effects. Before long it is impossible to know which evident symptoms are medication side effect related and which symptoms are brought on by the underlying cause. In the normal practice of medicine, the rule of thumb is to just discontinue all medications and start all over. In psychiatry this process is not so easy. First because patients need to be weened off of their medications and second because without the medications the patients are often not functional. What these patients need most is a doctor with a heart big enough to really care about patient outcome. A doctor who looks deep into the root of each problem, accepts nothing as a given fact and is willing to start the investigative procedure all over again. The problem cause may in fact be psychiatric or a neurological abnormality, but the problem may just as well be a vitamin deficiency, a mal-absorption issue, a toxic reaction or any of so many other pathogens. At the end of the day the difference between success and failure in healthcare is having that good investigator who is willing to go to bat for you. One who is willing to challenge insurance carriers who try to deny certain diagnostic measures and treatment courses. One who closes his eyes when there is truly a case of inability to pay a bill in full. One who is ready to use every tool at his disposal to in able the recovery of his patients. What I have just described above is the essence of Dr David S Younger. A friend, a colleague, a true mensch.

★★★★★ Outstanding doctor and patient advocate

Self-verified patient of Dr. David S Younger - Posted on September 30th, 2018

Dr Younger is an exceptional doctor, who goes above and beyond for his patients. He not only has a very impressive education, but he's kind and brilliant with great bedside manner. He takes calls on weekends and evenings and advocates for his patients. Fortunately since he is a top expert in his field, he has the ability to help patients get the right treatments, and he will fight for you if insurance denies you coverage for them. His office staff are kind, patient and knowledgeable. The entire practice is incredibly prompt with everything they do. Dr Younger publishes research, writes a blog, consults on the treatment of immune mediated neurological disorders and runs a private practice. He is equal amounts physician and patient advocate. He has the compassion and empathy of someone who is intimately familiar with struggles and needs of patients with autoimmune neurological disorders. He not only tested and diagnosed me AND got me the treatment that I need, he also took the extra time to organize my electronic health record so that I don't fall through the cracks of the medical system. My insurance is administered through my university, and the approval process is annoying, to say the least, as there is no advocacy for students — when Dr Younger learned this, he called and told them it is not acceptable that I have to do all of the work to get things covered. He escalated the issue all the way up to the office of the president of the university of California, and volunteered to help them in making sure I got insurance coverage for the treatment that I need. I would recommend him to anyone looking for a brilliant, thorough and compassionate physician.

I saw Dr Younger after already having been diagnosed with peripheral neuropathy, a condition where nerves die off. Of all the doctors I saw, he was the only one to look deeply for a cause, and to advocate for treatment for me. Everybody else wrote it off as "Unknown" cause, and felt that was enough. He was kind, slow and thoughtful when speaking with me, genuinely concerned about my well-being. I've had this condition for 20 years, and I'm so very happy to be under his care now.

I am a 60 year old woman that has been suffering from migraine headache for over 30 years and for the past 3 years the frequencies has increased to 3 times a week and they have gotten more severe. I have been referred from doctor to doctor with no result so as a last resource I started to do my own research on line and I started reading DR Younger review and decided to give him a try as he was only 60 miles from me. I made an appointment and made the trip to the city with little hope of him finding anything, BOY WAS I WRONG as with one visit he diagnosed me with celiac disease, low emnity and nerve damage. Immediately starting my diet with not gluten to treat the celiac disease my headaches have subsided and it has been 4 weeks with only 2 minor headaches, can't wait for him to start treating for the low emnity. Thanks Dr Younger Michele

Traveled from the Midwest to see Dr. Younger five weeks ago and I'm still amazed at how much was accomplished in just a few days in diagnosing and treating my 22 year old son. We are used to specialists in fancy offices who rush you in and out, perhaps offer up a test or lab work, follow up three months later with a misdiagnosis or that the problem is "all in his head". Traveling to NY was difficult but so refreshing to be taken seriously by a doctor who wastes no time in getting an answer! We are impressed by both Dr. Younger and his A+ staff and hopeful that we are on a new path to recovery.
